"Dusty" Rhoades Let Nill Score, and in Eighth Score was Tied, but Blues Slugged Hard.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.-The Napoleons needed two victories today to make their record nine straight, and though the Senators fought hard they were run over in both contests.

The first game was marked by the slugging of the Clevelands, particularly Buelow, Bradley, and Lajole. At least one hit was made off Hughes in every inning of the game. Nill's pretty work at second was also a feature of the game. Four times the first batter in an inning reached first base for Washington, and in the third Bill Clarke doubled with no body out. But there were no sacrifice hits in the Senators' outfit, and only one runner got as far

In the eighth Jacobson tied the score on his force out of Kittredge, who had singled, a hit by O'Neill, a wild pitch by Rhoades, and an out. Meanwhile, Cleveland had scored in the third on two singles, a sacrifice and a fly-out, and in the fourth on O'Nelli's muff of Turner's fly, his wild throw to second, which advanced Turner to third, and a hit by Lush Stovali and Turner flied out, after which Lush, Bemis, Rhoades, Vinson, Bradley, and Flick rapped out singles. Lajoic came up again, and his two-bagger drove in Cleveland's ninth run. The day was cool, and the Cleveland's recent great playing probably out a growd of 4 600 playing brought out a crowd of 4,000.

Wahly still holds second place to Williams, and added to his number of games won by defeating Baker in the early part of the evening. Bryant also won a hard-fought battle in a game with Yost, in which the balls changed hands a number of times and the game looked to be either player's until Mr. Bryant's last ball had struck the stake. Yost also beat Bean in the early part of the evening. The last game of the evening in the first division was played by Marr and Yost, the former winning after a hard-fought contest.
